Thermometer Record.
The following shows the range of the thermometer, as observed at Schneck's drug store, (Opera House corner yesterday):

WEATHER INDICATIONS.
Washington, D. C., June 21.—1 A. M.—For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, partly cloudy weather, local rains, variable winds, generally shifting to colder north-east and higher barometer.
For the Lower Lakes, fair weather, winds mostly north, stationary or lower temperature and higher barometer.
For the Upper Lakes, fair weather, mostly north-east winds and stationary or higher temperature.

Hempfield Extension.
Arthur Sinsel, Superintendent of Bridges, B. & O. R. R., in the city en route to Washington, Pa., where he will go to-day to superintend the erection of a bridge over the Potomac river, near the city. He says the B. & O. is in earnest this time.

The Hasting Hempfield Treatise.
The last high water washed away considerable of the creek bank below Main street. The upper corner where the Hempfield railroad passes was in a demoralized condition and lately piles were driven in to render the road entirely secure. The rain of last night brought down the creek street over Main and down the creek, carrying away quite large masses of earth. This will not hurt the road, however, as the piles driven in are at least twenty-five feet in the ground. But if the sewers above are not fixed so as to perform their proper functions, a number of such rains as we had last night might do great injury besides being much inconvenient.

Keep to the Right.
A correspondent, who is supposed from the writing to be a lady, complains in no measured terms of the pretty general neglect of the custom honored law, "Keep to the Right," by people who cross the Suspension bridge. The fair petitioner for the rights of bridge pedestrians correctly sets forth that the foot-paths are narrow, and that it is a great nuisance to either be crushed against or to be compelled to step out into the wagon track when meeting a person coming in the opposite direction. She hopes that if the INTELLIGENCER will call attention to the subject and endorse her petition that reform will immediately commence. This paper is very willing to do and would, and that this is not the first time that the nuisance has been noticed.

Use Dr. Hennen's Whooping Cough Syrup. The only real remedy. Price 50 cents.

Parkinson Naps.
The time of the Circuit Court of Brooke county has been taken up for several days in the trial of the Bethany "fire-bugs," Cheek and Frazier. In the first instance Cheek got an aggregate sentence of 5 years while the jury disagreed in the case of the latter. Yesterday the case of Dr. David Parkinson was called up by the State, but Parkinson failed to respond. It will be remembered that the old fellow was released some time ago on his own recognisance and since that time he has been wandering around the country, sometimes stopping in Pennsylvania, while at other times he was seen over in Ohio. During this term of court, however, he was around Wheeling several days, or until after the conviction of Cheek, when it is supposed he took the alarm and "skipped." Judge Boyd issued a capias for his arrest, although it is likely that if he keeps away from Brooke county nothing further will be heard of the matter.

THE ORATOR O'SULLIVAN.
He Talks to Five Hundred People in Washington Hall About the Wrongs of Ireland, the Irish League and What Ireland Needs—A Short Interview With the Gentlemen.
Since Parnell's visit here, which was during a time of great suffering in Ireland on account of the failure of the crops, in the Emerald Isle, and the political crisis, it is safe to premise that Mr. Parnell himself did not create much enthusiasm here, and what little there was became engendered on account of the actual distress known to exist at the time over the water. It is this cause as much as any other of last night, can be ascribed to the small, late night audience at Washington Hall to hear Mr. M. O'Sullivan talk of the origin, growth and purposes of the Irish Land League.

Mr. O'Sullivan, who is the guest of Mr. Edward Larkin, has been in this country eight weeks, and has been speaking every night since with three exceptions. He was one of the original founders of the Land League in Ireland in connection with Parnell, Brennan and Harris. In company with Parnell and the rest he was one of the traversers prosecuted by the English Government for conspiracy and inciting lawlessness among tenants. As our readers know, after five weeks of a trial he was found guilty and liable to go to jail. Mr. O'Sullivan has spoken, so he says, in every county in Ireland about the oppression of the English land laws, and upon determining to come to this country he thought he could create a public sympathy and support that would do much for the cause in which he is engaged. He first spoke in New York City to large audiences, and he afterwards had invitations to lecture from many large cities in the country. It was in the course of these engagements that he had connected to come to Wheeling. From here he goes to Pittsburgh to-day, and will speak in that city to-night.

"What is to be the result of the agitation of the rental question in Ireland, Mr. O'Sullivan?" asked the reporter. "The result of the agitation of the rental question in Ireland, Mr. O'Sullivan?" asked the reporter. "The result of the agitation of the rental question in Ireland, Mr. O'Sullivan?" asked the reporter.

"The orator is a gentleman of about forty years of age. He has a heavy frame, black chin whiskers, stands six feet in height and has a healthy, melodious brogue that rivals in resonance the deep-toned notes of our good friend the State Treasurer."

Seated on the stage were the President of the meeting, Mayor Egerton, who introduced the speaker, by the way; and Fathers McEneaney, of Benwood; Murray and McKillop, of Wheeling; and Father O'Keefe, of Baltimore. Also Daniel O'Keefe, Edward Larkin and M. Kelly.

A glance over the audience showed a number of prominent persons and a representation of some localities.

When the speaker was introduced by Mayor Egerton, the audience gave him the warmest of welcomes. The history of Ireland's wrongs, from an Irishman's standpoint, was entered into in a general and extremely interesting way, and which demonstrated that her lands were wrongly held by the English people, and that the feeling of grievance had been kindled in the present demand for a loosening of the screws. The speaker held, and the sentiment breathed somewhat of Fenianism, that as the lands now owned at present are not held by hereditary right, but are held by the English people, by conquest and confiscation, the people had a right to recover them by the same means.

The famous Irishman in '45, '46, '47 and '48 was most feelingly depicted. He claimed that it was caused not by the failure of crops, but by the exportation of the same by landlords. A rather striking profile was drawn of Irish proclivities and characteristics and the statement was made that the time had come when Irishmen would not see their families starve or become paupers. The protestant clergyman was general. The protestant clergyman from the north go south and preach the principles now held by the Land League. The Catholic priests from the south are welcomed at the north when he exhorts the masses to stand for their rights as Irishmen.

A beautiful tribute was paid by Mr. O'Sullivan to Michael Davitt, and the proclivities by the English Government of Parnell, Dillon and others were elaborated upon and explained. His illustration of the injustice practiced by "land grabbers" and the system and meaning of boycotting were pertinent and of interest, and in the course of his remarks denied that the Land League people advocated the killing or abuse of landlords. On the contrary, it contended the best action of some belligerents who, in the agitation had made away with four men, and these are demonstrated to have been by malice and not on account of land troubles.

He dwelt at some length upon the present condition of the country, and quoted statistics showing the loss of wealth which was said to have been taken from her for years; her capacity for production and maintaining many millions of people; the B. & O. Railroad, under the tutelage of Capt. Sam Gill, has been promoted to conductor of the Mt. Winans' Accommodation.

Holt vs. Lynch et al., from Gilmer county, was submitted.

Shipped His Mail.
Some three months ago Tom Powers and two or three other young men went through the till of a saloon in Pittsburgh, owned by a man named Regan. All were arrested, but with the exception of Powers all were discharged. Powers was held in $500 bail, his uncle, J. O. Robinson, going his bailman. A few days ago Powers disappeared from Pittsburgh, and after some reconnoitering it was discovered that he had come to this city.
Capt. Bennett was notified on yesterday afternoon that Powers was arrested at Bots' Hotel, in the Fifth ward, and handed over to his uncle, who came to this city after him.
The prisoner is about twenty-two or twenty-three years of age, and is a large, powerful young man. He, in connection with several others, had been engaged in peddling shoe strings around the city.

Bryant Literary Society.
The Bryant Literary Society last night elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing three months. President, W. N. Elgie; Vice President, E. Sharkey; Secretary, Wm. McNabb; Treasurer, T. F. Memminger; First Officer, J. S. Robinson; Second Officer, Ed. Rogers; Monitor, R. C. Darrah. The society will close their eighth term on Monday evening at Bryant Hall, North Wheeling. The society is in a flourishing condition, and judging from past affairs of this kind we predict that the banquet will be a pleasant and memorable affair.

Death of an Old Citizen.
Robert Gibson, Esq., one of the oldest citizens and business men of this city, died at his residence, on North Main street, last night, after a lingering illness. Mr. Gibson came to this city from Ohio some thirty-two years ago, to draw the 30th, a coal business, in which he was very successful and succeeded in amassing quite a handsome fortune. For many years he was actively engaged not only in his own business but also took a prominent part in the affairs of the city. About twenty years ago he retired, and since that time has lived comfortably in the house in which he died. He was seventy-nine years of age at the time of his death. He leaves a family of three children, all grown to manhood.

MEETING OF THE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF THE CAPITAL CITY SAVING.
The following named gentlemen, comprising the State Board of Health, are expected in the city and will meet at the Capitol this morning for the purpose of attending to the duties imposed upon them: J. E. Reeves, Ohio county; George B. Moffitt, Wood county; G. H. Carpenter, Hampshire; C. D. Richardson, Jefferson; A. R. Barbee, Mason; Isaiah Bee, Mercer.

This meeting is in accordance with Section 9 of Chapter 90 of the Acts of 1881, which provides that the members of the Board shall, within twenty days after receiving notice of their appointment, meet and organize by the election of a President and Secretary.

The most important duty of the Board, however, to-day will be the examination of persons practicing medicine. Section 9 of chapter 90 provides that any person practicing medicine in any of its departments shall possess the following qualifications: If a graduate of medicine he shall present a diploma to those members of the State Board of Health appointed for the Congressional district for verification as to its genuineness. If it is found to be genuine and issued by a reputable medical college and recognized as such by investigation, and if the person named therein be the person claiming and presenting the same, the said two members of the State Board shall issue a certificate to the holder of the diploma.

Section eleven provides that all persons applying for examination shall be of good moral character. Section twelve in regard to the character of the examination, and the branches in which officials shall be examined.

We have not heard who the officers of the Board will be, but it is more than likely that Dr. Barbee will be President and Dr. J. E. Reeves, Secretary. The last named gentleman is probably more familiar with the duties prescribed by the act and has given more attention to the subject of sanitary reform than any other man in the State.

Twelfth Street Needs a Sewer And a Big One, Too, as Demonstrated by Last Night's Flood.

Shortly before six o'clock last evening, the rain, which before had been leaking at the spigot, came out of the bung hole of the clouds. It wasn't twenty minutes thereafter that Twelfth street looked like Niagara long drawn out. Down rattled old oyster and tomato cans, cobble stones and other bric a brac from the upper precincts, and the turbid waters, defiled topped up with mud from Wheeling hill, overspread not only the streets but the pavements as well. The mud reaching to the twenty car loads of mud at the intersection of Twelfth and Chapline, with perhaps as much more on the corner below, including portions of Market street. The expense of cleaning away this rubbish in a few years would pay for a sewer.

The street last night was rendered impassable for nearly an hour, and notwithstanding the bad weather each corner was crowded with pedestrians waiting to cross. The grumbling was ominous and decided. The last Council at one time allowed the construction of a sewer from Chapline street to the river, but this action was afterwards recalled. In the annual estimates of the city engineer a very respectable sized appropriation was asked for to construct a sewer, and we believe allowed by the present Council, and its completion could not be made too soon for the comfort of the public.

PERSONAL, Church and Miscellaneous News from the City.
Rev. Brown has moved into Mrs. Johnson's house, adjoining L. Danford's.
Anthony, the son of James Barrett, who was drowned Sunday afternoon, will be buried Tuesday afternoon at half past one o'clock. He was between seven and eight years old.
Complaint is made here (and perhaps it might be made with equal reason in every other town of the State) that there are very great numbers of citizens—at least they are voters—who neglect or refuse to pay their road tax. They have no property and cannot be forced to pay, therefore they hold themselves not bound to do it. Of course their consciences are not in a very active state. Why not try the law requiring voters to pay this tax before voting?

A number of Ballaire boys have been rusticated—not in idleness, however, but picking strawberries.
Rev. Brown will be installed as pastor of the Gravel Hill Presbyterian congregation next Friday evening at half past seven o'clock. Rev. S. H. Wallace, of Barnesville, will preside. The charge to the pastor will be given by Rev. Hensch, of Concord, and the charge to the congregation by Rev. Robert Alexander, of St. Michaels.

Bert Morgan has returned from his extended trip to Texas. He complains some of the heat.
Many sewers are being laid all over town, on all sorts of plans. It would not be surprising if the whereabouts of some of them were lost in time. Something of the kind has become a necessity.
Mr. Woodbridge and his daughter are visiting at John A. Gallagher's, Gravel Hill.
Dr. Dudley Woodbridge and Miss Lizie Anderson are to be married on Thursday this week.

A little daughter of George Ransom was buried Monday forenoon from the Second M. E. Church.

The report of Mrs. Cochran's serious illness was untrue—the result of a little nervousness.

The following is the programme for the march of the Masons on the 24th inst., before leaving for Martin's Ferry picnic: The brethren will meet at the lodge room at 8 A. M. sharp, and then wait until the arrival of the boats. They will then proceed to the O. & P. depot. At the depot they will take cars for the grove, where all necessary arrangements have been made to accommodate with refreshments, who may participate on the occasion. Ransom it is to be a "banquet" picnic and take your lunch baskets along with you. The brethren are requested to decorate their homes by hanging out flags and in other appropriate ways. O. Bippus will act as Marshal and Adolph Johnson as assistant. The committee on Arrangements are Henry Landkronk, James Benson and J. F. Smith.

The Liebig's O's Own Beef Tonic

"It is rapidly curative in monthly sufferings, excessive flow, sick headache, chronic sore throat, asthma, cough, shortness of breath, nervousness, sleeplessness. It rapidly restores lost vitality, whether from indigestion or excess, rapidly stops exhausting losses of fluids."

LEWIS CALLOHAN, son of E. M. Callaghan, a Steubenville contractor, was drowned at that place yesterday while bathing. His father offered a liberal reward for the recovery of the body. The boy was about ten years old, and nude. Information should be sent to E. M. Callaghan, Steubenville.
